Subject: Congratulations – your NJP article among most highly cited

Dear Prof. Nori,

It is my pleasure to inform you that your article 'Optical momentum and angular momentum in complex media: From the Abraham-Minkowski debate to unusual properties of surface plasmon-polaritons' is one of the Top 30 most cited articles published in New Journal of Physics in 2017, receiving 54 citations on Scopus to date. Thank you for choosing to submit this work to NJP and I hope that you will consider NJP for your next paper. Below I have listed some of NJP's key author benefits:

- Society journal, owned by the German Physical Society (DPG) and Institute of Physics (IOP), UK
- Broad, cross-physics scope and readership
- High quality peer review: each article's review overseen by a member of our Editorial Board of leading researchers
- Median time to first decision 34 days
- Open Access gives wide visibility: each article downloaded 100s of times in first weeks after publication
- Various regional and member discounts are available; see this webpage for details
- Available to all authors: Double-blind peer review; video abstract; interactive figures
- For details of these features, please visit the About the Journal webpage

I'm happy to answer any questions you may have and we would be delighted to publish your future work in NJP.

Best regards,

Simon Shepherd
